Emerging Salukis Leadership Academy

Southern Illinois University’s Emerging Salukis is a 6 week leadership academy for the intellectual elite and creative millennial to develop and expand their capacity to be a leader of tomorrow.

Emerging Salukis is open to full time freshmen and sophomore students with a genuine interest in developing leadership skills. Participating in Emerging Salukis will allow students to gain practical and hands on experience in networking, etiquette, community service, and skills to capitalize on opportunities and overcome obstacles to change the world.

Emerging Salukis will expose students to an experience that is purposeful and teaches social responsibility. Students will participate in exclusive events that will include group discussions, team building activities, and civic engagement opportunities.

Applicants will be contacted for interviews during the last week in November. New members will be invited to attend an Ugly Sweater Winter Soirée.

All academy events will be held over the course of 6 weeks through January – March 2017. Additional details will be provided upon acceptance.
